

Information for in-person ticket holders for 23rd Annual Immigration Law & Policy Conference

Please familiarize yourself in advance with the following general information on getting to Georgetown University, as well as using the conference app if you choose to supplement your in-person experience.

Registration:

In-person registration opens at 8:15 am ET. Pick up your registration materials (and coffee!) in the foyer area in front of the Lohrfink Auditorium. Please allow adequate time to arrive to campus and find the conference space. The opening session will begin at 9:00 am ET and the conference ends at 5:00 pm ET.

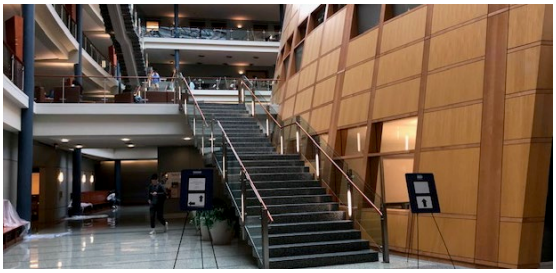

Location:

The conference will take place in the Lohrfink Auditorium, in the Rafik B. Hariri Building on Georgetown University's main campus. Enter through the main building entrance, directly across from Cooper Field (the athletic field). Proceed to the second floor using the steps in the main lobby or the elevator bank directly to the left upon entrance.

Main Building Entrance

On entry to building, proceed upstairs 1 floor, go straight past tables & then right. REGISTRATION AND LOHRFINK AUDITORIUM ENTRANCE IS LOCATED ON 2ND FLOOR

Location: Lohrfink Auditorium, Rafik B. Hariri Building (between West & Tondorf Road) on Georgetown University main campus

Driving and Parking:

- Campus entrance for rideshare & parking: 3611 Canal Road NW, Washington, 20057 (entrance near traffic light)
- Campus entrance for pedestrians: 37th & O Streets NW

Visitors to campus may park in the Southwest Parking Garage, entrance located at 3611 Canal Road NW. Space is available on a first-come, first-served basis, and we recommend arriving early. Parking is $5/hour and may be paid with cash or credit card.

To get to the Hariri building from the garage, exit using the "North" elevator bank. Turn left; the Hariri building is the gray stone building on the far side of the athletic field. Walk around the field (on either side) to reach the entrance.

Taxi and Rideshare:
Instruct the driver to enter the Georgetown campus through the Canal Road entrance. (In rideshare apps, select the McDonough School of Business as the address for dropoff or pickup.) Follow the road through the gate, around the bend past garage & bus stop, follow construction detour signs onto Tondorf Road and turn left up the hill next to Cooper Field. The Hariri Building is a gray stone building at the top of the hill.

Metrorail:
The free university GUTS shuttles connect Georgetown University with the Dupont Circle Metro station (Red Line – located 2 miles from the University) and the Rosslyn Metro station (Blue, Orange, and Silver Lines – located 1.6 miles from the University).

More information about getting to campus can be found on the Georgetown University Campus Page or here. There are other shuttle routes besides Dupont: Capitol Campus, Arlington, and Rosslyn. They run every 10-20 minutes (check timetables).

Events and Meals Included with In-Person Registration:
Your registration fee includes access to all the sessions both in-person and virtually, along with all the recorded presentations that will be available for viewing on the Zoom App/web platform for one year.

Refreshments will be served throughout the day, and a sandwich lunch is offered to registered in-person participants who paid a registration fee (excludes Georgetown student registration). If you have a dietary requirement or any special needs and did not make the request during registration, please contact events@migrationpolicy.org with your request by COB Wednesday, Nov. 11.

Bag check:

Attendees may be subject to bag searches. Please avoid bringing large bags or suitcases as these will not be allowed into the room and there is no formal storage for bags. Please email events@migrationpolicy.org by Thursday if you anticipate having to bringing a suitcase.

Zoom website/app:

You have been emailed login information for the zoom conference app / event platform. If you did not receive, please check your spam folder for an email from <noreply-zoomevents@zoom.us> MPI Events. It provides a virtual join link and includes login coordinates.

The app offers the opportunity to view the agenda, add sessions to your calendar, view speaker bios and resources, connect and network with other attendees, and view available presentation materials. You do NOT need to download the app if you only want to view sessions on a desktop or in-person.
